

Jacob Preston is the ClassFlow Consultant for the Southeast. Jacob taught elementary school in Nashville, TN, and now works for the ClassFlow team out of Chattanooga, TN. He graduated from Middle Tennessee State University and went on to further his education by obtaining his Master's in Educational Leadership from Bethel University. Jacob has been working with ClassFlow for over two years, and travels around both training teachers, and speaking on how to engage students through ClassFlow's award-winning technology.

Kathryn Vaughn has worked for Promethean for over seven years, first as a Teaching and Learning Consultant and now as a ClassFlow User Engagement Communications Specialist. Kathryn also spent time as an adjunct instructor in the School of Education at Clemson University, as an independent education consultant, and as the Director of Operations for a regional educational technologies business partner. Prior to joining the EdTech world, Kathryn worked as an elementary school teacher in South Carolina where she developed a passion for empowering teachers with relevant instructional technology rooted in a strong pedagogy.

Courtney Salazar is the Regional ClassFlow Consultant for the West. Before becoming part of the ClassFlow User Engagement team, Courtney taught English Language Arts for nine years. She loves supporting teachers with ClassFlow technology to make learning even more relevant and engaging for students. Courtney holds a BA in English and MA in Secondary Education from the University of New Mexico, but now calls Colorado home.

Jennifer Dingle, is the ClassFlow Instructional Consultant for Baltimore County Public Schools. Jennifer supports teachers, staff and curriculum offices within Baltimore County Public Schools. Specifically, she assists them in learning to use and integrate ClassFlow and ClassFlow Desktop into instruction. She provides training, co-teaching, co-planning and model lessons throughout the 161 schools in the county. She is a former Baltimore County employee, with 14 years of teaching experience. Her teaching experience includes time spent as a classroom teacher in 1st and 5th grades, a technology integration teacher, an instructional coach, and as an instructor for Loyola University. She has a passion for meaningful professional development that can assist in improving teaching and learning for both students and teachers.

Tori Powers is the Regional ClassFlow Consultant for the Midwest and Metro Atlanta area. Prior to joining the ClassFlow Team, Tori was a middle school Math teacher in the Atlanta area for about five and half years. She is a lover of all things math and made sure to show her students the wonders that are fractals every year. Since joining ClassFlow, Tori has attended TCEA 2017 and ISTE 2017 representing ClassFlow and Promethean. She is passionate about sharing how technology can be integrated in the classroom to increase student engagement!

Lu Anne Bumgardner is the ClassFlow Delivery and Communications Manager for the User Engagement Team. She started with Promethean in 2008 as a contract trainer. Since then she has delivered trainings and worked with teachers throughout the United States. Prior to joining Promethean, she was an 8th grade Math teacher. Working with her teams, she focuses on the best way to engage users and how to nurture them through their ClassFlow journey.